The three aspects that affect sorting and grouping:

Partitioner — Determine what reducer will receive the record

RawComparator (sort) — Determines how records are sorted

RawComparator (group) — Determines how sorted records are logically grouped together for a single reducer function call